Bartlett Re-elected President in Race Closely Contested

Waukegan, Fox Lake, North Chicago, R. L. Park Have Upsets

George B. Bartlett, dean of village presidents in Lake county, was retained in office by Antioch voters Tuesday while in other cities and villages in the county veteran leaders were defeated.

Bartlett won from Charles Cermak, Jr., by a majority of 31 votes in an election that drew what Clerk L. D. Powles believes is the heaviest vote in many years if not a record.

The vote was Bartlett 254, Cermak 223.

A total of 485 votes were cast, with eight ballots spoiled.

The race for village president was the only contest. All other candidates were unopposed. Their vote was:

L. D. Powles, clerk, 409; Mrs. Martha Hunter, treasurer, 401; Arthur Rosenfeldt, trustee, 401; Edgar Simonsen, trustee, 396; C. A. Wolfenbarger, trustee for short term, 373; E. Elmer Brook, police magistrate, 398.

At Fox Lake, the veteran Arthur J. Amundsen was defeated by Carl G. Erickson 669 to 537. Joseph E. Harmeyer, a third contestant, withdrew from the race in Erickson's favor.

What has Antioch people wondering is where they got more than 1200 votes in the village the size of Fox Lake.

In Waukegan Mayor Frank Wallin was dumped after 14 years in favor of Robert E. Coulson; in North Chicago Anton Macrowski, Jr., won over Mayor John P. Dromey, who had served in office 14 years; while in Libertyville Albert H. Kroll, president incumbent, was defeated by John J. Jaeger.

Lake Zurich retained its president, H. L. Wiesner by a substantial majority. The vote was Wiesner, 295, Charles Mionske, 48.

Lake Villa Election

William Kerr was unopposed for president of Lake Villa, but in the trustee race the Citizens party won over the Peoples Party. The results were: Citizens party, Fred Bartlett, 88; Russell Brumfield, 112; and Paul Williamson, 113; Peoples Party, Delbert Sherwood, 56; and Donald Oilshlager, 60.

Round Lake Park Upset

Round Lake Park's improvement party headed by Walter C. Bengsen, won the election in that newly organized village. Stewart McKechnie, first president of the village was defeated 481 to 225.

Mrs. Morris Pickus presented A. G. Simon, production manager of Pickard, Inc., who gave an exceedingly interesting talk on the well known and famous Pickard china-ware, illustrating the different processes of production.

The fourth and sixth grades tied for having the most parents present. Mrs. Lillian Gray, assisted by Mrs. Gladys Wilton, served the refreshments.

Frank M. Hamlin, 70, Former President of Lake Villa Died Friday

Frank M. Hamlin, 70, who helped incorporate Lake Villa and served as its president 14 years, died at 9:20 p. m. Friday at his home in that village following a lingering illness.

The funeral service was held at 2 p. m. Monday at the Strang funeral parlor in Antioch with the Rev. E. W. Strauser of the Episcopal church in charge. Interment was at Angola cemetery.

Mr. Hamlin was born Dec. 6, 1878 in Hainesville and was a life-long resident of Lake county. He moved to Lake Villa 60 years ago. He was always interested in civic affairs and helped organize the Lake Villa Trust and Savings bank, serving as its president 15 years.

For many years Mr. Hamlin served as secretary of the Lake Villa camp of Modern Woodman of America. He was a member of the St. Ignatius Episcopal church in Antioch and applied his social service through membership in the Lake Villa Men's club.

He was affiliated with Hamlin and Sons as architect and contractor for 35 years and has conducted an insurance agency for the last 15 years. He at one time served as an assistant to the county clerk and was head of the federal census for this district in 1940.

Mr. Hamlin is survived by the wife, Gertrude; a daughter, Mrs. Bojan Hamlin Jennings of Jackson Heights, N. J.; a brother, Charles Hamlin of Lake Villa and two grandchildren.

Two sisters, Miss Nell Hamlin, and Mrs. John Cribb, and a brother, Fred Hamlin, preceded him in death.

Mr. Hamlin's grandparents and his father migrated to Hainesville from Connecticut when his father was a young man.

His father, Benjamin Hamlin was one of the last Civil war veterans of Lake county. He died Apr. 8, 1939. His mother, the former Amelia Litweiler, also is deceased.

Triangle Track Contest At Antioch High Today; Baseball Practice Starts

An unscheduled track and field meet between Warren, Grant and Antioch Township high schools was arranged for this afternoon at the Antioch school grounds.

Grant is out to revenge a defeat earlier in the season. Warren is an unknown quality so far as the local school is concerned.

The spring vacation didn't do the Antioch boys any good according to their poor showing at Palatine Tuesday. The score was 80 to 30 in Palatine's favor.

Antioch got but two firsts, Wilton taking the high jump at 5 feet 5 inches, and Ducommun taking the pole vault. Palatine had too many men, all of whom were in good condition from a meet the weekend before.

Baseball Practice Starts

The Sequoits are engaged in baseball practice in preparation for their opening game on Tuesday, May 3, here with Ela Township High school.

On the following Thursday the Sequoits will meet Wauconda in the second of games with conference teams which will not count on the conference schedule.

Forty-five newly appointed state game wardens will start their two-week's schooling at the Conservation school on Fox Lake next Sunday.

They will study the Pittman-Roberts federal aid program for Illinois game and fish projects, and will be given special instruction in their work by chiefs of the various divisions of the state department of conservation. They also will be addressed by Izaak Walton League chiefs and representatives of the Illinois Federation of Sportsmen's clubs.

They will make several field trips and study conservation of wild life at first hand. They will sleep and eat at the school grounds.

Profits of Concert to Purchase Music, Horns For School Orchestra

A good program worthy of a full house will be presented by the Antioch Township high school chorus and band tomorrow evening at the High school.

The profits will be used to buy music for the Sequoia Music Makers and instruments too expensive for an investment by students.

Since the fund was started in 1946, the school has obtained seven clarinets for $175, three saxophones for $185, a drum for $45; a bass horn for $300, kettle drums for $300 and a microphone for $80.

The fund is also used to pay for repairs of the school owned instruments.

Antioch High Football Schedule for Autumn Shows 3 Home Games

The football schedule for the Northwest High school conference for 1949 provides four home games for Antioch.

The Sequoits will open their season at home against Barrington High, last year's conference champions, on Friday night, Sept. 23.

Other games of the seven game schedule are:

Fri., Sept. 30—Antioch at Northbrook (Night)

Fri., Oct. 7—Bensenville at Antioch (Night)

Fri., Oct. 24—Antioch at Wauconda (afternoon)

Fri., Oct. 21—Palatine at Antioch (Night)

Fri., Oct. 28—Antioch at Grant (Night)

Fri., Nov. 4—Antioch at Ela (afternoon)

While no announcement has been made by the local school it would seem from the schedule that the Palatine game on Oct. 21 will be the natural day for the homecoming. This year the school found the earlier dates too early.

Whether there will be any non-conference games this season is yet to be decided.

New Clerk of Board at Grass Lake School Plans Rigid Economy Program

Frank Ballwanz, of Indian Point was elected to membership on the Grass Lake school board by caucus recently and has been made secretary of the board by other members. Walter Forbrich, past clerk, was made president.

Ballwanz represents a faction that defeated the recent referendum for tax increase and asked for improved records of the board. He will now have that responsibility in his new position.

Ballwanz said that while it may be necessary to borrow more money on anticipation warrants to pay the teachers and janitor for the rest of the school year, he is quite hopeful that the financial situation will brighten itself next year.

"I have written to County Clerk J. P. Morse to find out what our income will be from taxes, but haven't had his reply as yet," said Ballwanz Monday. "I hear we are to get 17 per cent more owing to increased property valuation and if that is so, and the new parochial school takes enough pupils to permit us to use only two teachers we will come out all right."

The new clerk said that an audit of the books showed some items charged to the education fund which should have come out of the building fund where there was a balance of $1,200.

"Gravel and janitor supplies should have come out of the building fund," he insisted, "and not out of the education fund."

He also said that a higher price than necessary was paid for soap and other supplies which should have been obtained through bids.

Hunt's 245 game was high individual and B. Keulman of Club Villa was second high with a 231.

Some of the most important qualifications for success in life and in business cannot be taught even in the most elaborate educational institutions—they must be acquired.

Franklin J. Lunding, president of the Jewel Tea Company, in discussing methods of making stores more attractive, pointed out that businesses are like individuals, and people look for the same attributes in business that they look for in friends. "I think," he said, "we like in our friends, a person who is clean and well groomed, not slovenly and dirty. We like our friends and associates to be alert and up to date in appearance, not dull and out of date. We like generous people, not the stingy and grasping kind. We like considerate people, we don't react favorably to selfishness or thoughtlessness. We like courteous people, I never respond to rudeness. . . . We like our friends to be honest, not clever or untrustworthy. We like them to be patient—they need to be sometimes. . . . We like them sincere, not cagey. We like them good natured, not sour or irritable."

"Any group of people, or any business, with these traits is bound to be attractive. . . . is bound to be successful. And a business with these traits is bound to be a better place to trade, a better place to work, a better place to call as a supplier, a better place to invest money, a tough but better competitor, and a better citizen in every community."

It would pay any person to check himself as to the qualifications Mr. Lunding considers necessary attributes in friends or in business.

Destroying Self-Reliance

Opposition to compulsory health insurance continues to grow—and much of it comes from groups which have no financial or other such interest in the matter. As an example, several state legislatures have gone formally on record against government domination, in whole or in part, of the practice of medicine in this country.

The American Farm Bureau Federation, which has a very large membership among the farmers of the United States, has also adopted this position. It affirmed its support to the extension of voluntary plans, even as it opposed compulsion. Then it said: "We believe that voluntary programs result in better medical service in greater volume than will be provided in any compulsory programs and, at the same time, will do much to develop individual self-reliance and independence."

As this statement indicates, the issue has various facets. Viewed purely from the perspective of performance, government medicine has proved a failure everywhere it has been tried. Politics and progress just don't mix. And doctors who are enmeshed in red tape and must conform to rigid governmental rules can't do their best.

Furthermore, nothing could do more to break down the self-reliance and independence of a people than the cradle-to-the-grave social security program, of which compulsory health insurance is a part. In addition, it would create a burden of taxation so great that it would destroy incentive and gradually force down the standard of living of us all. To oppose compulsory health insurance is to oppose one product of a trend which has been ruinous to freedom in a dozen nations.

The Low Down From Hickory Grove

Freight trains on the highway. Sisters and brethren, there is a subject. Old Mr. Iron Horse is having hard going. Here he is buying a private right-of-way on which he lays a costly track and on which he pays taxes and on which he keeps up repairs at his own expense—and what happens. What, says Henry, Well, I says, zooming along, parallel, is a competing highway freight truck, big as a freight car, running on a nice, smooth pavement built by the state and the people.

Now, owning no railroads or any railroad stock, and wanting the lowest freight rates possible, I am for whatever system is best and cheapest—in the long run. But as the highway freight trucks get bigger and longer and higher and my driving of my own flivver into town gets more risky and risky as the freight truck driver looks down upon me, I am beginning to lean to the idea that I better speak up while I can speak up.

If we allow unfair competition to wear old Mr. Iron Horse threadbare—and we wake up some morning and the depot is locked, we will not be so calm and unperturbed.

Before the R. R. came to town, what did our burg look like—there is something important to ponder. It is no ho-hum affair.

Yours with the low down,
JO SERRA

Fantastic price? Not at all. You might have to pay it! KINGPIN - that's you!

It happens every year, sure as spring comes.

There dawns a day, warm and inviting and fragrant with freshness, when the winter cares are shed like a cloak—and you're suddenly younger than your years.

Lucky the man who has this handsome carriage as his answer to that moment.

He'll pull a knob on the dash of his ROADMASTER—and the top will swing back. He'll touch the treadle—and 150 valve-in-head horsepower will leap into life, eager as a setter scenting the start of the chase.

He'll move a lever—and smoothly, with whirling oil transmitting his engine's power, move off through tangles of traffic into the open countryside without even thinking about clutch-pedals and gearshifting or the like.

He's free to have fun—free to drink in spring's glories—free to dawdle or to dash as whim decides—and he knows his level-riding ROADMASTER will instantly, silkily answer his every bidding.

Kingpin—that's what he is!

Kingpin—that you are when you've prepared yourself with the gorgeous ROADMASTER Convertible! With factory production mounting, that's not so difficult to correct—and it's probably less costly than you think.

You say you haven't got a ROADMASTER Convertible! With factory production mounting, that's not so difficult to correct—and it's probably less costly than you think. Just see us—soon—and you'll waste no time getting a firm order in!

Uncle Sam Says

Lots of you people today are tip-toeing around the edges of the proverbial soup bowl. Saving money has never been a cinch—but it's so much easier when you buy U. S. Savings Bonds the regular, automatic way. When you know that day in, day out, your savings are growing, you get a feeling of comfort and security, like on a "Magic Carpet", that can be had in no other way. Besides, you get back $4 for every $3 in ten short years. Enroll for the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or, if self-employed, the Bond-a-Month Plan where you bank.

Lighting Novelty

Among new lighting novelties are electric lamps that simulate candle flame to provide atmosphere in the home or restaurant for banquet table settings. The imitation candles eliminate fire hazards, won't burn down, and last as long as 1,000 hours. They can be obtained with either medallion or candelabra bases and in several finishes—clear, flame tint, frosted, amber, red and candle flame (white with yellow tip).

Land of Dairy Lovers

In some sections of Albania, the native meal begins with cheese and invariably ends with a large glass of milk.

Diet Range of Spiders

Spiders are able to devour small back-boned animals, such as lizards and fish, which they kill by means of their poison fangs.

Clothing Labels

Look for the label in clothes. The manufacturer's name or trade mark, address, degree of color fastness, and resistance to shrinkage, special laundry instructions (if any are needed) and fiber contents are the important facts that should be on all informative labels. As soon as all consumers demand this information, manufacturers will "see to it" that labels are attached to all of their products.

New Vaccine Important In Checking Brucellosis Dr. G. W. Jensen Told

New hope is being offered that veterinary science has come close to perfecting an effective tool for eradicating the livestock industry's No. 1 killer, brucellosis, according to Dr. G. W. Jensen, who returned recently from the convention of the Northern Illinois Veterinary Medical Association, held in Rockford.

Reporting on six years' research with a new vaccine, Dr. I. Forest Huddleson, eminent veterinarian of East Lansing, Mich., declared that it does not cause confusion and uncertainty when adult cattle are tested for brucellosis following vaccination. He characterized this as "a tremendously important point." Present vaccines in use are not infallible in this respect. Illinois veterinarians will have the new vaccine as soon as further research has proved its value beyond all doubt. Use of "brucella M," as it is called, already has checked the disease in all twenty-two herds tested.

Saving newborn pigs and promoting better health in hogs through better nutrition and management are problems which need first attention in pork production according to Prof. C. M. Vestal, Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind., who emphasized the responsibility of the veterinary practitioner in the field of animal health and food production.

"A pig lost at weaning time represents 225 pounds of feed lost," he said in urging better care of farm herds.

Never Lost a Battle
The only Union general of the Civil war who never lost a battle was Gen. Geo. H. Thomas. Thomas was born in Virginia and when he chose to fight with Northern troops he was looked upon as a traitor by his friends, and his family turned his picture towards the wall.

What Einstein Foresaw
Men have always used energy that came directly from the sun, but in 1905 Albert Einstein saw in every speck of dust here on earth a possible source of that same energy. Today, scientists have found the source of the sun's strange and wonderful energy locked in the heart of the atom.

Pitchforks in Use Since 2,000 B.C.
Pitchforks are misused more than any other tool. Don't take chances with a fork. For outside work, carry it over your shoulder and stick it securely in the ground when not in use.

Contour Wheat Fields
Contour-seeded wheat fields produce larger crops (about two-thirds bushel an acre more) than those seeded up and down the slope, say agronomists at the University of Illinois.

Speed of Salmon
According to the bureau of fisheries a salmon will swim at the rate of six to seven miles per hour. This rate of speed is for sustained swimming and not just a sudden spurt.

'Wood Burners'
Earliest locomotives were wood burners. As they grew in size the change from wood to coal was started about 1875.

Varieties of Insects
Entomologists have recorded between six and seven hundred thousand different kinds of insects.

"The two-hour pageant of fun, music, song, and drama will be presented by professional entertainers, and will be the most outstanding program ever given in the history of the club. There won't be a dull moment."

"There will be eight variety acts—all new and different."

John Benson, Chicago impresario, Walker said, who did last year's show for the club, will handle it again this year.

The program will be given in the auditorium of the Lake Villa school, Milwaukee and Grand avenues.

The following committee members were appointed at a special director's meeting this week.

County Quota for U. S. Savings Bonds During Campaign $1,408,000

A quota of $1,408,000 in Series E U. S. Savings Bonds has been set for Lake County in the "Opportunity" Savings Bonds campaign to be held May 16 through June 30, it is announced by James F. Stiles of North Chicago, Chairman, Lake County Savings Bonds Committee.

Arnold J. Rauen, State Director, U. S. Treasury Savings Bonds Division for Illinois said the Illinois quota will be $89,000,000 and the national quota $1,040,000,000.

"Put more opportunity in your future" and "Be a Modern 49er" will be two slogans in the drive. The campaign will be held to increase interest among the public in the value of investing in U. S. Savings bonds, Rauen said. Hundreds of volunteers in this county will hold person-to-person solicitations. Appeal will be made to the individual's own interest, his future economic security and to increase his ability to take advantage of future opportunities when they arise.

Sales of savings bonds will be stimulated through the Payroll Savings plan where one works, through banks and other financial institutions on the Bond-A-Month plan and at postoffices.

Wood Burning Locomotive To Be Displayed at 1949 Railroad Fair at Chicago

The 98-year old wood burning locomotive "Pioneer," highly treasured for its early speed records and participation in the Civil War, and a Cumberland Valley coach, will join the roster of historical vehicles in "Wheel a-Rolling," pageant of rail transportation, at the national Railroad Fair opening in Chicago June 25th for 100 days. Neither was displayed at the 1948 Fair, according to Major Lenox R. Lohr, Fair president.

Built in 1851 by Seth Wilmarth at Boston, Mass., for the Cumberland Valley Railroad, now part of the Pennsylvania Railroad, the locomotive frequently attained a speed of 60 miles an hour, comparing favorably with the speed of heavier type locomotives in service today.

The "Pioneer" was burned by Confederate troops in October, 1862, but was later repaired. Its last run was made in 1900 from Chambersburg to Carlisle, Pa.

To My Friends

Some friends we meet along life's way. Stop just for a moment, and then they've gone along on a different road.

And we never meet again. There are other friends who stop with us.

And their hearts are staunch and true.

And though we part—We are friends at heart. Such friends are very few.

4-H Leaders to Be Trained In Sessions at Woodstock, Grayslake and Geneva, Ill.

Three training schools for 4-H leaders have been planned for the near future. This will enable the leaders to do a more efficient job in teaching their club members in their project work this summer. The training schools will be as follows:

April 22—4-H Clothing school, 10 a. m. to 3:30 p. m. Presbyterian church, Woodstock (1 block west and 1 block south of Courthouse).

April 29—4-H Food Leader's school—10 a. m. to 3:00 p. m.—Home Bureau office, Grayslake.

May 4—4-H Room Improvement Leader's school—10 a. m. to 3:00 p. m., Episcopal church, 4th and Franklin St., in Geneva.

Last year, there were 28 Home Economic 4-H clubs organized in Lake County. It is anticipated that at least that many or more clubs will organize for the coming summer season. Any new group of five club members with an adult leader, wishing to organize, may secure information, supplies, and work books from the Lake County Home Bureau Office, Grayslake, Ill.

This 4-H work gives training in homemaking, how to preside at meetings, and how to speak before a group. Other activities of 4-H club members include recreation, health, safety, music, and better methods of doing their jobs. The 4-H club work is sponsored by the Extension Service from the University of Illinois and the United States Department of Agriculture. It is a public service for all those who wish to take advantage of it. Each club is required to hold six meetings and to complete their project work and exhibit it at the close of the season in August. Lake County 4-H clubs will have an opportunity to exhibit their project work at the Lake County Fair, to be held at Libertyville, Aug. 4-7.

Roland E. Burnette Given Training at Great Lakes

Roland E. Burnette, seaman recruit, USN, son of Mrs. Eva Burnette, of 954 Main st., Antioch, is undergoing recruit training at the world's largest Naval Training Center, Great Lakes.

Recruit training is the sharp break between civilian and Naval life in which the new Navy man learns the fundamental principles of the naval service.

In the course of his training the recruit is taught seamanship, Navy customs, terms, basic ordnance, gunnery, signalling and navigation.

Upon completion of his training the recruit is assigned either to units of the fleet or to a service school for specialized training.

She was born November 14, 1913 in Chicago, coming to Trevor with her parents, Charles and Emma Gerl in 1921.

Survivors are her parents and one brother, George Gerl all of Trevor. Funeral services were held Saturday from the Strang Funeral Home, with the Rev. E. William Strauser officiating. Interment was in Liberty Cemetery.

Snow Falls to Hinder Easter Services

Despite snow and cold large crowds of Antioch area residents attended church services Sunday. All churches were crowded. An early morning meeting of young people of the Methodist church was held Sunday at Fox River park despite inclement weather, the service being held in the open and breakfast being served in the shelter house.

Cancer Dressing Plan Supported by Current Drive for Donations

One of the Lake county cancer projects that will derive support from the current fund drive being conducted by the American Cancer Society is the cancer dressing program.

Three units have been organized in Lake county for the purpose of supplying free cancer dressing to patients. They are:

St. Therese Hospital Auxiliary Unit: Mrs. George Carney, 30 No. Park Ave., Waukegan, chairman; Miss Gertrude Murphy, 1820 Lincoln Ave., North Chicago, co-chairman. This unit takes care of the Waukegan, North Chicago, Zion and Winthrop Harbor areas.

Deerfield Woman's Club Unit: Mrs. J. W. Collins, 941 Cedar ave., Deerfield, chairman; Mrs. M. E. Graves, Box 158, Diverdwoods rd., Deerfield, co-chairman. This unit serves the area south and immediately west of the Waukegan area.

Woman's Auxiliary of the Deep Lake Improvement Association Unit: Mrs. F. E. Wallace, Box 383-B, Route 2, Lake Villa, chairman. This unit serves western part of the county.

The women in the units supply their own used white material, while the cancer society supplies them with cellul-cotton.

The Lake County Medical Society has approved the cancer dressing program. All physicians have order forms for requesting the size and number of dressing they wish supplied to their patients. Dressing are distributed only on the request of a physician.

At the close of last week, the amount collected in the county was $11,500, or nearly 50 per cent of the quota of $23,800. Dr. Arnold E. Osterberg of Waukegan, chairman of the drive, expressed confidence that the quota would be reached.

"I am pleased by the good work which the various community chairmen are doing," he said. "Success in this year's campaign will pay off in lives saved in the future."

Mrs. E. J. McDougall, Route 173, is chairman for the Antioch area. She is being assisted by Mrs. Fred Oschmann, Mrs. Curtis Wells and Paul Chase.

Contributions may be sent to the local chairman or to the Lake County chapter of the American Cancer Society, 133 Belvidere St., Waukegan.

Governor Issues Proclamation

Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson has issued a proclamation setting May 1 to 7 as "Be Kind to Animals Week."

The proclamation follows closely on the governor's action in signing a bill which provides a fine of $1 for allowing cats to run at large. The bill sponsored by bird lovers now has farmers wondering who will catch the field mice if the cats are corralled.

Richmond Has New Mayor

Carl Grant, merchant, is Richmond's new village president. He took the place of Arlie Pickering who resigned.

Gurnee Firemen Plan Dance

The Gurnee fire department will have its annual public dance Saturday, May 21, at the Viking home pavilion. Music will be furnished by the "Tune Rockers Orchestra".

Hospital Patients

Mrs. Frank Novotny, Ingleside, was a patient this week at St. Therese hospital.

Mrs. W. C. Petty is a medical patient at Victory Memorial hospital.

Fishing Rod 'Alarm'

"Alarm rods," fishing rods that ring a bell when the fish bite, have been patented by an Eastern inventor. Equipped with gaff-books on their tips to simplify landing of large fish, they have wood handles and metal shafts. The angler has no need to hold the rod after casting. When the fish strikes, a spring releases a liberal length of line for a sporting run.

Lake County Chorus Will Reorganize; First Meeting Ap. 26

The first rehearsal of the Lake County Chorus will be held on Tuesday evening, April 26, at 8 p. m. at the Farm and Home Bureau office in Grayslake.

At this meeting the five choral members chosen by the state committee will be presented. Recordings of these numbers have been made by the University of Illinois Chorus and we hope to have these recordings to play at this rehearsal.

Mr. James K. Van Slyke of Washburn Municipal University, Topeka, Kansas, has been secured as director and will take over these duties June 1. Mr. Van Slyke is not a stranger to the Illinois Chorus as he was with the University in 1946 and 1947.

District rehearsals under Mr. Van Slyke will be held in June, July and August.

The massed County choruses will sing again this year at our State Fair, in Springfield. Our Lake County Chorus has been invited to appear at our County Fair.

The climax of the year's activities will possibly be a trip to Europe, including visits to England, Denmark, and Sweden. Also, the Illinois Rural Chorus may again make a trip to Canada and participate in the Annual International Exposition in Toronto.

Anyone interested in becoming a member of the Lake County Chorus is invited to be present at our first rehearsal on Tuesday, April 26.

Fox Lake Movie Still a

Matter of Uncertainty

Fox Lake's dreams of a new motion picture theatre, bubble and burst with marked regularity.

Now George D. Watts, whose building Jack Benton is trying to lease, is insisting that Benton have money in the bank as escrow to insure that he can equip the building if it is remodeled.

The newest dream is of a theatre, built by Robert T. Held of Chicago and Atty. Robert C. Nelson of Grayslake, owner of an outdoor theatre, they are looking the town over to see whether the territory warrants a theatre such as they could build.

In the meantime the Wonder Movie service is announcing free movies on Tuesday and Saturday nights sponsored by the merchants.

School Board Organizes

The Antioch Township High school board has organized with Walter Hills as president and Mrs. Helen Osmond as secretary.

Boy Scout swimming at Great Lakes has been cancelled until further notice.

Mobie Chest X-Ray Unit To Be Stationed at Main And Lake Sts. on April 27

April 27 has been picked as the day for the Christmas Seal Mobie Chest X-ray Unit of the Lake County Tuberculosis Association to visit Antioch for a community chest x-ray survey, Mr. Harry J. Krueger, Executive Committee member of the association announced today. The unit will be located on the corner of Lake and Main from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. on that date.

On the 26th the unit will be at Antioch Township High school to x-ray the children of the local schools who reacted positively to the tuberculin test given here recently. These schools include Antioch Grade and High schools, Oakland, Millburn, Channel Lake, Grass Lake, Hickory Corners, Emmons and Druce Lake Schools.

"The 26th is the day for the schools," Mr. Krueger said, "but on the 27th we want everyone, age 18 and over, to visit the unit for a free chest x-ray. This is an important step in the control of tuberculosis in the community."

The industries of the city have promised to cooperate by seeing that their employees have time to go to the unit on this date.

"Tuberculosis is a disease with no outward symptoms in its early stages, yet the earlier it is discovered, the easier it is to cure," Mr. Krueger continued. "A chest x-ray is the only way to discover early tuberculosis. That is why we urge everyone to have a free chest x-ray when the mobile unit visits Antioch."

"There are five points I'd like to stress in regard to this project," Mr. Krueger said. "First, it's free. Your purchase of Christmas Seals pays for this service. Second, it's painless—just like having a picture taken with a camera. Third, it only takes a minute of your time. Fourth, the findings are confidential. You and your doctor are the only ones that know of any findings and only you receive a negative report. Last, there will be no undressing required at the unit, provided men's shirts do not have buttons on the pockets and women's dresses do not have buttons or ornaments on either the left or right sides over the lung area."

Time Changes Sunday

Antioch residents are reminded that Daylight Savings time will go into effect Sunday and that before they retire they must set their clocks ahead one hour. The loss of an hour's sleep will be made up next fall.

I wish to thank my friends for their loyal support in the election Tuesday.

ALLIGATORS

Woman Has Strange Job

TALLAHASSEE, FLA.—Slender Mrs. Celeste Roess, who likes to take alligators alive because "they look so pathetic when they're dead," has a job few men and fewer women would envy.

She is right-hand assistant to Ross Allen, Florida reptile authority. Among other things, the job requires long nights in a frail canoe hunting alligators in the north Florida swamps.

Want to know how alligator hunters go about their business? This is the way Mrs. Roess and Allen do it.

Towards sunset they climb into a jeep with a canoe strapped on top. Arriving at a likely pond about nightfall, they sweep the water with a flashlight. If they pick up the red gleam which is the unblinking eye of an alligator, they get to work.

Quietly they put their canoe in the water. The first task is to catch a small 'gator—little enough to be held in one hand and shaken.

Baby Grunts

The shaking makes the baby grunt. This attracts the bigger ones.

With the baby caught and grunting for all it is worth, the canoe moves silently towards larger game. Mrs. Roess steers by Mr. Allen's hand signals as he prepares to make the capture.

As the canoe nears an alligator Mr. Allen lunges with a rope noose attached to a long pole. The loop tightens around the alligator's neck—and there's a brief flurry.

Then comes the most dangerous part. An angry alligator diving under a canoe can turn it over easily. Swimming in the dark in the same lake with an annoyed alligator isn't one of the safer methods of earning a living.

Holding the reptile at a comfortable distance once he's on the end of the rope is a major consideration. It keeps Mrs. Roess paddling energetically until the big reptile is brought to shore.

Once pulled up the bank, the alligator is tied, and the first job is to lash its jaws together. An alligator can break the bones of a hand or foot if it gets one in its mouth.

That is the procedure if the alligator is to be taken alive. Allen captures some for shipment to his reptile institute at Silver Springs in central Florida.

She Answered Ad

Others are shot. Their skins are sold, their stomach contents analyzed for scientific purposes and their meat eaten. It tastes like a cross between fish and pork.

How did Mrs. Roess—in her 30's and the mother of four children—get started on her unusual career?

Pretty prosaically. All she did was answer a newspaper advertisement for a "laboratory assistant." That was five years ago. Her "laboratory work," which began with helping to process snake venom for medical purposes, since has broadened to include almost everything to do with reptiles.

The narrowest escape she had in her dealings with alligators came when she invaded an alligator nest and scooped up an armful of little ones.

"There I was with my arms full of the babies," she said, "when I heard the mother alligator coming. I only got out of that with the help of God."

She said she is not afraid of alligators, but that she certainly respects them.

Berlin Is Bonanza For Fortune-Tellers Selling People Hope

BERLIN.—Berlin is a bonanza for fortunetellers. They're getting rich by selling the public in this ruined city what it wants: Hope!

The hunger for a look into a pleasanter future has gripped all classes—dumpy hausfraus, elegant actresses, shabby professors, rich smugglers, skinny rubble cleaners and fat politicians.

The fame of the soothsayers spreads by word of mouth. It's rarely necessary to advertise. Prices for consultations usually start at 10 marks ($3) but those who can afford it wind up paying much more.

Astrologers are in the vanguard of those who claim to draw aside the veil of the future. Others rely on psychic trances, gypsy playing cards, and spiritualistic gimmicks.

Some astrologers admit it's difficult to cast a reliable horoscope for Berlin, because history is unsure of the exact hour and day of its birth in A.D. 1244. One, however, suggests the good luck influence of Venus may be felt this year, in contrast, to the difficulties raised by Saturn in the past.

Ursula von Kardos, who scorns astrological computations in favor of second sight, has come out with this forecast:

"In the first months of 1949, Berlin will have the usual minor disturbances, but a great improvement will start in the summer. An event of great importance—thank heaven, no war—will occur then. Next winter will be much better. The Allied air life will continue, but with normal traffic. The Soviet

Spider In Seismograph Sets Up False 'Quake' Recording

NEW YORK, N. Y.—That was no earthquake that was recorded on the City College Babar seismograph station. That was a spider. So it was revealed by Prof. Daniel T. O'Connell, director of the station, which is at Finley Hall, 136th street and Amsterdam avenue. What's more, the intrusive creature knocked the station out of a first-place accuracy rating by the United States coast and geodetic survey.

The spider found its way into the mechanism of the vertical component, one of three seismometers of the station, leaped upon the sensitive pendulum and registered a violent, earthquake-like reaction. Then it spun a web, causing a lull in the instrument's recording.

Alert scientists investigated and found the culprit. Despite the contretemps, said the college, the seismograph had the second best accuracy record in the nation in the last three months. The spider?

"You may say," a spokesman whispered, "that it received a decent burial."

Oldest

Duck Hunter Found

WARE, MASS.—Game Warden Franklin Graves claims he's found the oldest duck hunter in the United States.

Graves made his discovery while on duty on Cape Cod.

Coming upon a 76-year-old man crouched in a blind, Graves asked the old fellow how he was doing.

"Poorly," was the reply, "but my father's doing right well."

A short distance away with a rapidly filling bag of ducks was the father, William Swan of Reading—age 100.

Several U. S. Scientists

Suffer Radiation Effects

NEWTON, MASS.—Radiation from atom-smashing cyclotrons has almost blinded several American scientists, according to Dr. Shields Warren, head of the medical department of the atomic energy commission.

"About five" scientists, whom he did not name, apparently had developed cataracts of the eye as a result of the effects of radiation on the lens, he declared yesterday. However, he stressed, that "there is no evidence at the present time that they were working on the immediate problems of atomic energy."

For safety's sake, Dr. Warren said, the commission is checking to determine if any of the scientists had been engaged in work other than university or similar projects which might involve proximity to atomic piles.

He emphasized that there was considerably more danger of radiation leakage in research involving cyclotrons than in the atomic projects of the United States government and its contractors where, he added, "the hazards, as far as we can tell from present experience, are extremely slight."

Evaporated milk may be successfully whipped if it is first chilled thoroughly. Two tablespoons of lemon juice for each cup of milk may be added to help stiffen the milk.

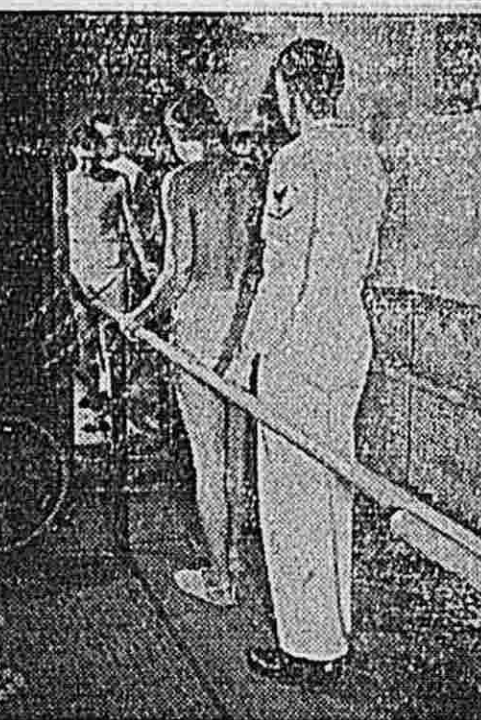

U. S. Forest Land

About one-third of the area of the United States is forest land. Of this, an area of approximately 461,697,000 acres grows or is capable of growing commercially valuable timber.

blockade will be lifted at the beginning of 1950. Berlin is no sinking ship, as some say now."

The bulk of the fortunetelling trade is made up of people worn down by the hard realities of life and in search of a little cheer. But some are people anxious to learn the fate of relatives lost in the war. Others are embroiled in matrimonial disputes.

Artificial Breeding

A desirable proved sire is a bull whose daughter's records, when compared with their dams, indicate he can transmit a high level of production. Such bulls are very scarce; only through artificial insemination can their ability be fully utilized. It is possible by artificial breeding to get 1,000 or more calves from one bull in a year, as compared with about 50 by natural breeding.

Early Railroad

Railroading in California started the hard way. The first two locomotives, ordered by the Sacramento Valley railroad, had to be shipped around Cape Horn by sailing vessel and barged up the Sacramento river from San Francisco. Operations on the road were opened on February 22, 1856, between Sacramento and Folsom, a distance of 23 miles. This line is now a part of the Southern Pacific system.

Origin of Coffee Roasting

According to legend, coffee roasting started with Arab efforts to keep a monopoly on the crop by refusing to sell the raw beans, heating them until they would not germinate.

SHORT STORY

Ma Lost The Key

By SHIRLEY RAY

"DEAR MA and Pa, Jeff and I have gone to the city to be married. Ma, you just will never see things our way so this is all there's left for us to do. I'm sorry, (signed) Jennie."

From behind the barn Hiram could see the ancient auto rattling toward home. Elviry's gaunt figure at the steering wheel was silhouetted against the white road, and Hiram smiled to himself at the picture of his very large wife in the very small car. As it pulled into the driveway he quickly ducked out of sight. Better to have her discover the note herself. Reluctantly he went into the house himself.

3-Minute Fiction

She wheeled upon him sharply, her whole figure trembling with rage and astonishment.

"Hiram! Have you seen this?" she demanded.

"Do you realize what this means? Jennie—she's gone! Jennie's gone, Hiram!" She waved the note wildly in his face.

SHE stormed at the little man furiously. "They have no right to marry! He'll never be able to support her; his own father said he'd never make a farmer. All this talk about his wanting to study engineering and such nonsense—I won't have my daughter to be his wife!"

"Now, listen, Elviry," he said boldly, "you're just carrying on so because Jennie's outwitted you! This would never have happened if you hadn't been so stubborn and would have consented to their marriage in the first place. If there's anything you women can't stand it's to have another woman out-do you—even if she is your own daughter!"

She read the note over again. "Jennie says they're leaving for the city. That must mean the 11:15 train. It's just eleven now; if we hurry we can catch her." Under her breath she added to herself, "So she thinks she can outwit me!" and drawing her lips into a hard, thin line, she grimly barged out the door. Hiram followed.

She opened the squeaky garage doors with an effort, and they went inside. He puffed away on his pipe as she fumbled in her huge handbag.

"Hiram, have you the car key?" "No, Elviry, I ain't seen it all day."

She dashed out the door and he followed with a flashlight. They searched the driveway. They overturned flagstones and ran their fingers over short blades of grass. But there was no key. They went into the house and turned everything upside down. But no key.

"HIRAM," she exclaimed suddenly, "you sat in that rocking chair when you came in. What did

"Hiram," she exclaimed suddenly, "you sat in that rocking chair when I came in. What did you do with my things?"

"Why, I set them on the table there."

"Yes you did!" she accused. "You set everything there but the car key. Don't try to lie to me now, Hiram! I know very well you'd like to see her get away, but I won't have it! Hiram, if you got that key..."

"Elviry, I swear to goodness, I ain't seen it."

"The train leaves in two minutes," she wailed as she glanced at the clock. Her spirit was entirely broken. Her great frame even seemed to sag.

Hiram patted her benevolently. "Well, you go to bed now, Elviry, and have a good cry. Crying always does do women folk good. I'll be along in a while."

He walked onto the porch. The air was sweet with the smell of hay. Far in the distance he heard the melancholy whistle of a train, then all was quiet again. He puffed contentedly for a while on his corn cob, then took it from his mouth and knocked the bowl against the railing. There was a bright flash and a small clink of metal as the ashes fluttered to the ground. Hiram smiled slyly to himself, pocketed the battered old pipe and started in. Released by WNU Features

Early Days of Football

About 75 years ago a group of Cornell university students asked their famous president, Andrew Dickson White, if they might be excused from classes to journey from Ithaca, N. Y. to Cleveland, O., to play football against a team from the University of Michigan. After due deliberation, President White replied, "I will not permit 30 men to travel 400 miles merely to agitate a bag of wind."

Driver's Habits

Some drivers wear out tires in 10,000 miles or less, others in 20,000 miles, some get 30,000 miles, and others greater average mileages. This is largely due to a driver's habits and operating conditions. "Jackrabbit" starts, sudden stops, excessive use of brakes, high speeds on curves and frequent stops and starts in traffic all tend to wear away tread rubber and rob the tire of miles of life!

'Hear a Pin Drop'

The expression, "hear a pin drop," is derived from the method used in 17th century coffee house auctions, according to Kemper insurance historians. A pin was inserted an inch or so below the wick of a lighted candle. The highest bid when the pin fell secured a ship or other goods for sale.

Baked Apples With Honey

Wash and core the apples and arrange in baking dish. Leave part of the core in the bottom of the apples. Fill the cavity with honey, using as much as the tartness of the apples requires. Top with one-fourth teaspoon butter. Add enough water to cover bottom of baking dish. Bake in moderate oven until apples are tender.

Ironing Linens

Iron linens on the wrong side to prevent shine. Since linens have a tendency to remain firm and crisp, starch is not necessary. However, a very light starching is advisable for cotton or rayon damask cloths.

Acidity Test for Milk

In 1890 Dr. Mann and Dr. Farrington at the University of Illinois released the acidity test for milk. This method is used today in its original form.

Farm Record

During the past three years, American farmers have produced 23 per cent more products with 5 per cent less manpower than during the three years before World War II.

Cruel Practice

An act was passed in 1634 by the Irish legislature against "the cruel and common practice of plowing by fastening the plow to the tail of an ox or horse."

Erie Railroad

Chartered in 1832, the Erie railroad was America's longest in 1851.

Take Care of Electric Cords and Safeguard Your Home

When you inspect the cords and plugs on your appliances look for these danger signs: worn insulation ... broken plugs ... loose prongs ... frayed or damaged outer cover.

Never run cords under rugs—stepping and walking on them breaks down the insulation and this damage may be overlooked.

Disconnect heating appliances when not in use to prevent fires.

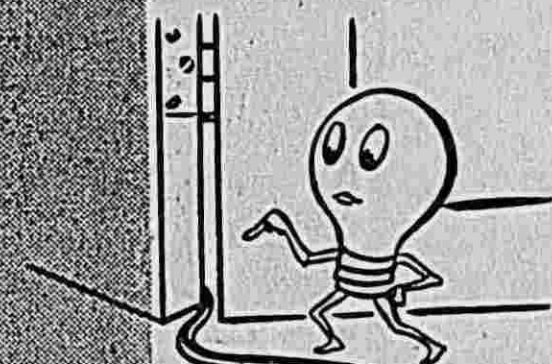

Cords should never be run over radiators or steam pipes—over-heating may soften insulation or cause it to crack.

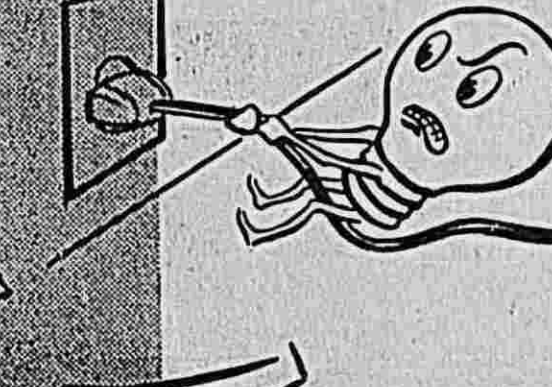

Cords should never be used as a substitute for permanent and properly installed wiring.

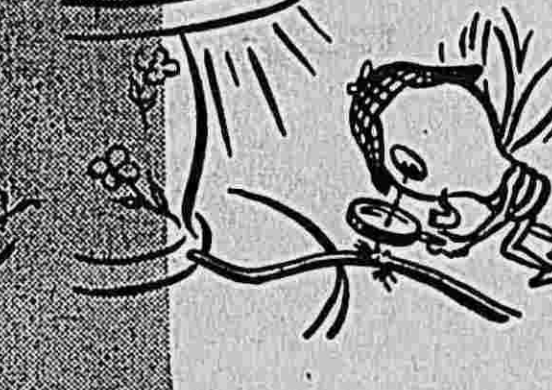

Do not place cords in door jambs—squeezing breaks the protective covering.

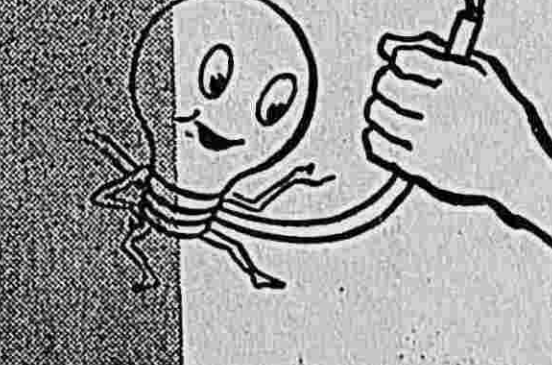

Do not disconnect appliances by pulling on the cord—this loosens the connections.

Cords should be examined regularly—worn cords should be replaced to prevent short circuits and possible electric shock.

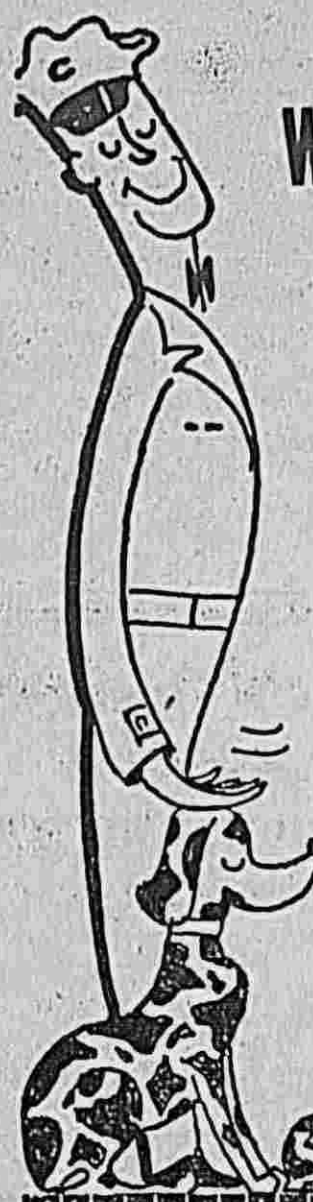

Have all electrical repairs and wiring done by a competent electrical contractor.

SHORT STORY

Julie Was Nineteen

By
Lillaco M. Mitchell

TO SAY that Julie was sorely disappointed when a very plump woman sank into the front seat beside her on the bus would be only part truth. Julie was mad clear through. Especially so since a whole string of slim, dark young men filled on the bus with that careless ease of men who know how to go places. Julie thought that she counted eighteen of these young men but the plump woman remarked pleasantly as Julie craned her neck, "You don't need to move, my dear. I don't mind in the least having someone in the seat next to me. I always reserve this front seat so's I can see where the bus is going. I feel almost as if I'm driving myself."

3-Minute Fiction

The last young man was swinging into the bus now and he paused before the plump woman. Poking her amiably on the shoulder he said firmly, "I want two chicken legs for dinner, see? I gotta eat, understand me—I'm on no diet! I want mushroom sauce, too!"

"Oh, you do, do you?" said the plump woman cheerfully. "Scat along to your seat and eat what I put before you! I may even give you liver and bacon if I feel like it."

Behind her, Julie could hear one of the young men singing in low tones. His seatmate joined in presently and they appeared to be singing a part-song. Julie turned restlessly. She knew the song well. There were three notes wrong, the way they were singing it.

Suddenly she found herself humming the melody properly.

"The girl's got it, Snider!" said one of the young men. "Hey, sing it again, will you?"

"SING it for them, my dear," urged the plump woman. "They're not getting fresh. They're my boys—"

"Your boys! Not all eighteen of them?" asked Julie in horror.

The woman laughed comfortably. "Well, the one who stopped to talk is mine. He's the leader of the orchestra. But the others have all been with us a long time and they're all A-1 fellows. They've put the music with the luggage and they won't have much time to rehearse when we get there. They'll all give me a hand with the cooking."

"Maybe when they get going, they can hire a dietician," said Julie gently.

"Bless your heart, Jon makes three thousand a week clear," she said in her pleasant fashion. "Sing the song for them, dearie."

Julie half turned in her seat and with blushing cheeks sang the melody in low, clear notes. The others in the bus joined in. The one called Jon came to stand beside his mother's chair.

"If you had a wardrobe—and wanted a job—I could put you on

"Hey, sing it again, will you?" said one of the young men.

tonight," he told Julie. "Just before we started I had a telegram from our soloist and she's in some hospital with tonsillitis. Bad luck for her but she can't sing for months. Well, do you want the job?"

"I have an amethyst strapless chignon," Julie told him.

Jon turned questioning eyes to his mother. "The silver drop behind her, Mom?"

His mother nodded. "You didn't mention the salary to her, Son."

"We'll say a hundred a week to start. Jon Gardner's Swing Orchestra is the name—in case you don't know."

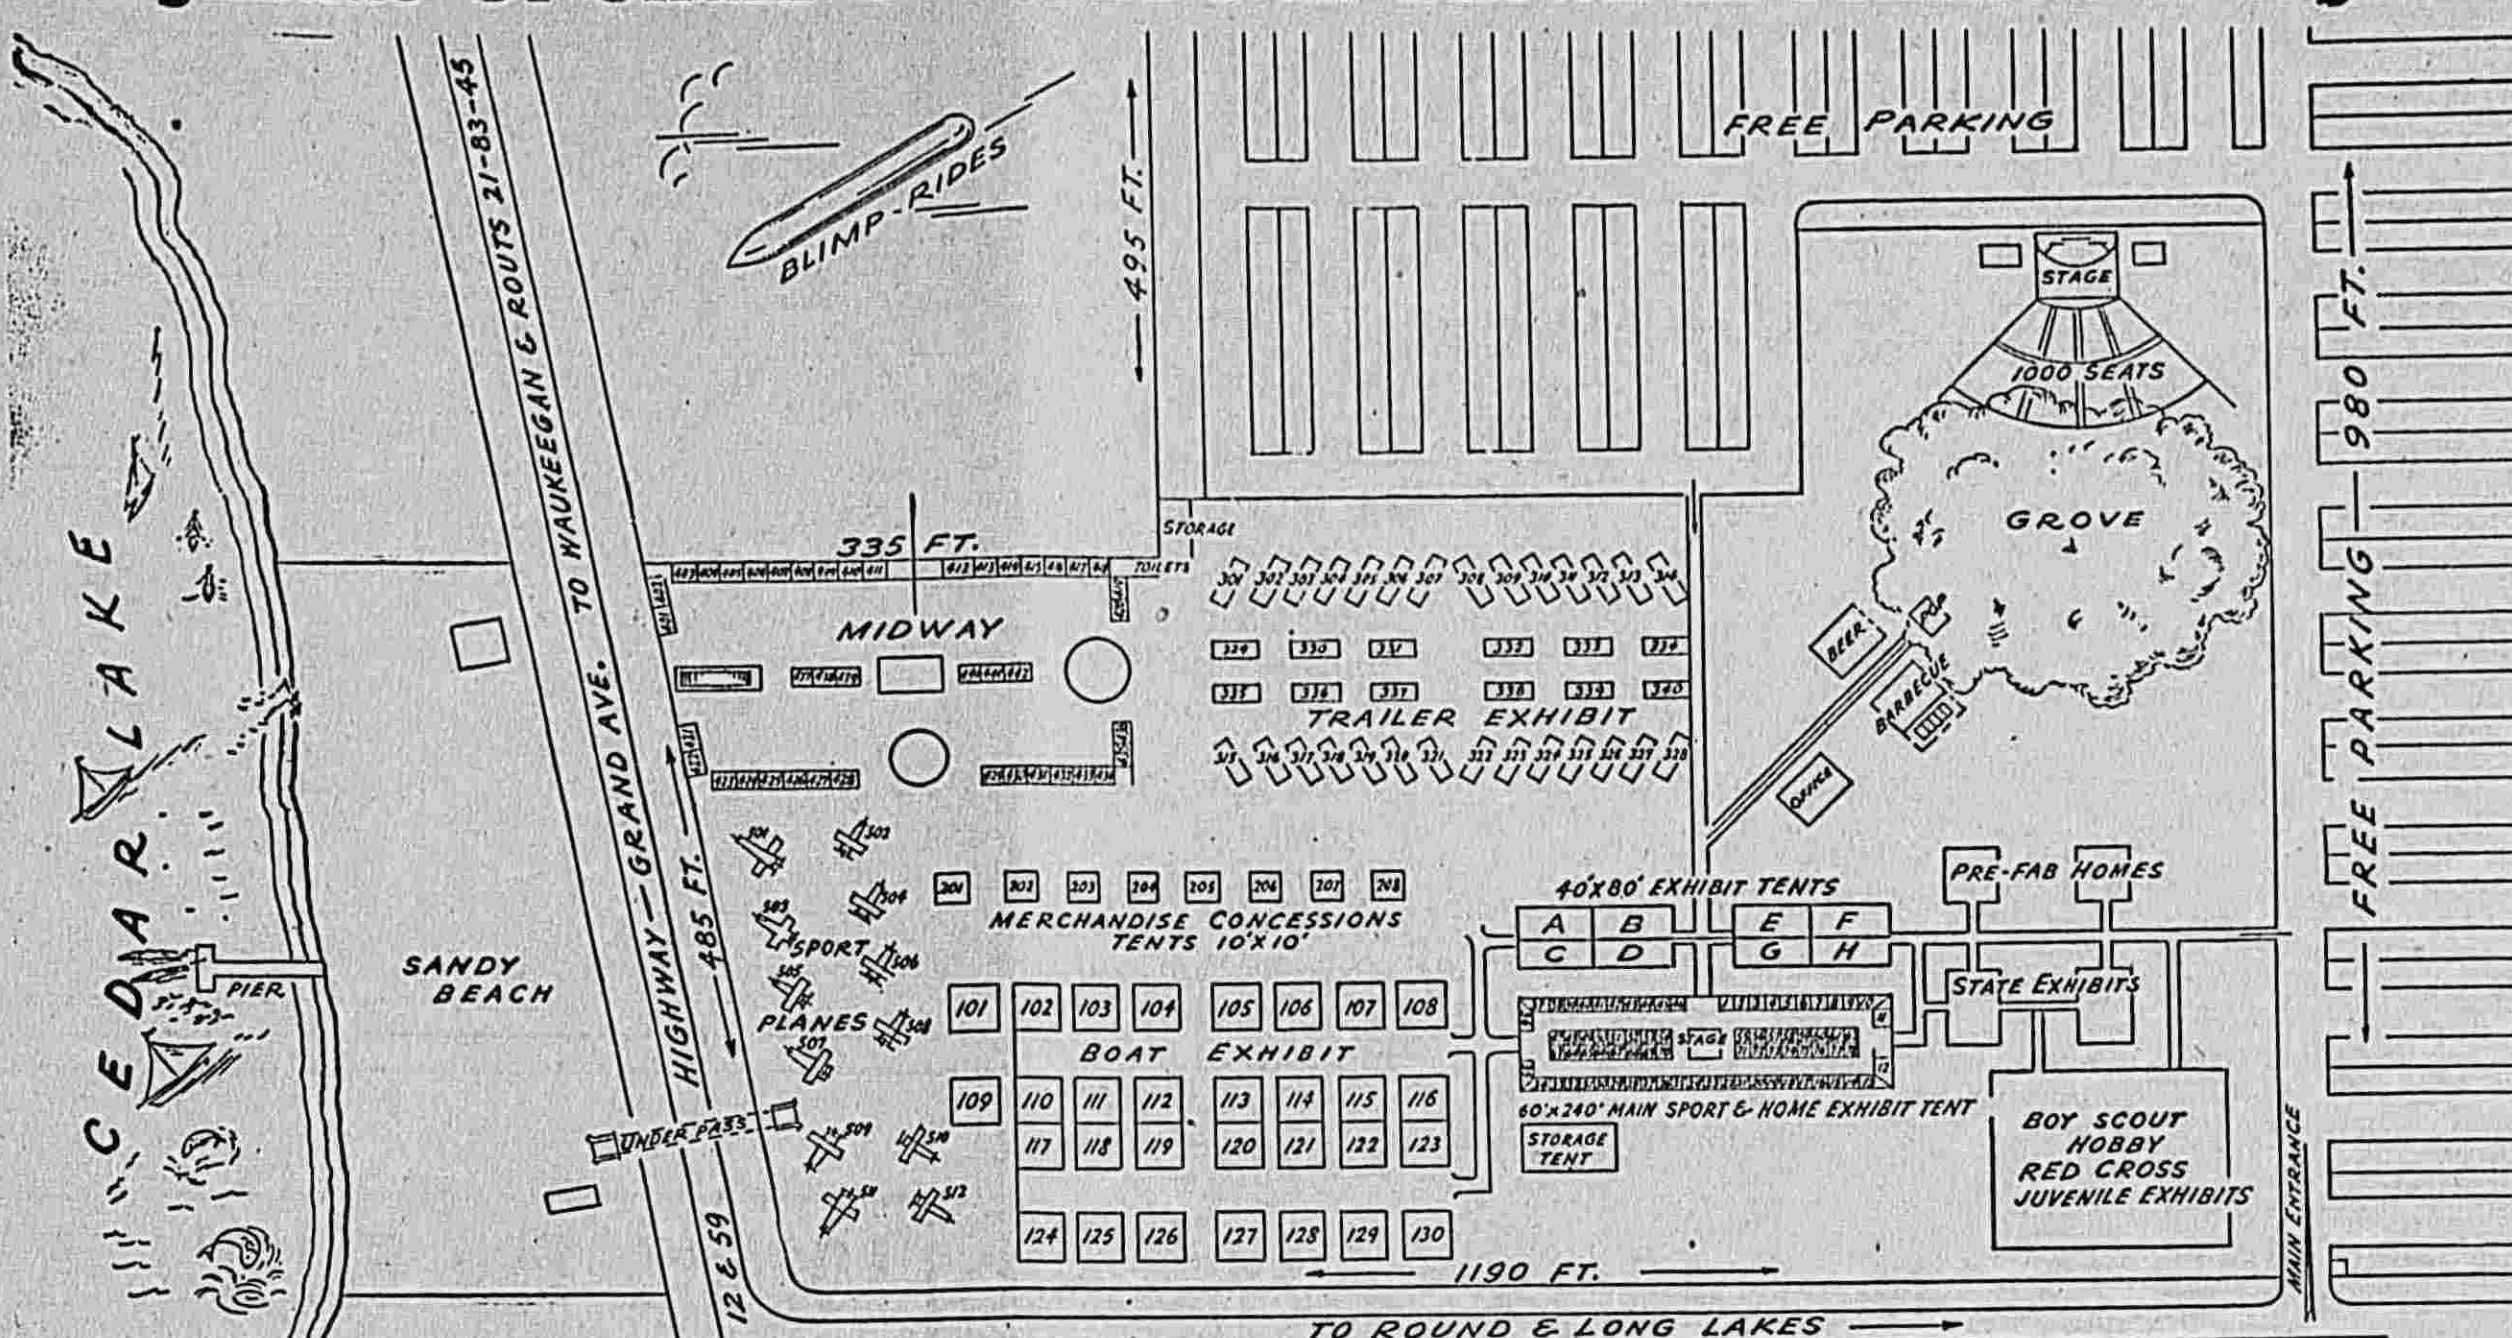

"You—why, you're on the radio, too," said Julie.

"Oh, yes, but we'll add your share of the radio proceeds. We have a profit-sharing stunt amongst ourselves on that," said Jon Gardner casually.

And Julie, looking up at him, dropped her eyes. She didn't want to acknowledge so soon just how much she liked him—now! And even at this moment she could imagine Joe's shining eyes and his, "Aw-gee Sisi!" when he learned that she was to be the soloist with Jon Gardner's Swing Orchestra. In a fashion Jon reminded her of her brother, Joe. When a girl of nineteen goes maternal, she is falling in love.

Julie was nineteen.

Floyd McKinney, H. S. Senior Wins Class Award Vo-Ags Prepare for Meet

Floyd McKinney has been awarded the DeKalb Hybrid Seed Corn Co. award for scholarship and project work excellency among the vocational agriculture seniors at the Antioch Township High school. He will receive a medal and his name will be placed on the permanent plaque with other winners in the class room.

The F. F. A. group of the school, while somewhat disappointed over the fact that the crowds at the magician show were not larger, were pleased with the profits of the show which will be applied to club activity.

Story of Apple
Apples have entwined themselves through history, romance and science like the flourishing fruit they are. Who knows if Isaac Newton would have discovered the theory of gravity had it not been for the apple that gave him the idea. And American folklore would have been much the poorer without its delightful story of Johnny Appleseed.

'Clean Potatoes'
In a recent market survey made by the U. S. department of agriculture, homemakers emphasized they want "clean potatoes" when making food purchases.

OUR DEMOCRACY—by Mat

"The legitimate object of government is to do for a community of people whatever they need to have done, but cannot do at all, or cannot so well do for themselves in their separate and individual capacities. In all that the people individually can do as well for themselves, the government ought not to interfere."

ABRAHAM LINCOLN

Vacuum Cleaner Care

If a vacuum cleaner must pick up pins and threads, its efficiency is bound to go down. When a cleaner has caught up thread and hairs in the brush, take a moment to cut them out. While this is being done, check to see whether the tips of the brush extend just past the tip of the nozzle. They should if the cleaner is to do a first-class cleaning job.

See Family

In the bee family, the worker has 3,000 to 4,000 lenses in its eyes, the drone 7,000 to 8,000, a queen about 5,000.

Peak Rail Expansion

The greatest period of expansion in railroad history occurred from 1880 to 1889, inclusive, when 74,720 miles of new railway lines were opened. The largest number of miles completed in any one year was 12,876 in 1887.

Tree-Ripened Fruits

Best fruits for canning are those that are tree-ripened. Unripe fruits are low in flavor and have a hard texture.

Sense of Bees

Bees have a sense of smell. They can distinguish between various odors.
